INTRODUCTION

It has been our attempt in compiling this book to record as accurately as possible the tombstone inscriptions in four of the burial sites in Ste. Genevieve, Missouri. Many mistakes which will seem to have been made by the typist are actually the way the inscription appeared on the stone.

The stones have been numbered in each cemetery in the order in which the information was collected. An alphabetical listing can be found at the back of the book. These numbers are also used on the maps which accompany each cemetery's listings.

A single dash, as in #45 on page 2, indicates a space on the stone which has yet to be inscribed. A series of dashes indicates an inscription which has weathered too badly to be read. Information appearing in parentheses usually indicates information which did not appear on the stone, but is necessary to identify the name on the stone.

Because of the irregularity in the placement of the tombstones in this cemetery, it was not possible for us to make an accurate map of it. The stones were numbered in approximate rows starting in the southwest corner as shown above. The rows were numbered left-to-right and right-to-left alternately moving toward Fifth Street with each successive row. Thus the higher the number the farther east the stone can be found.
